

Helping Organizations Create More Resilient Communities

Public Works Partners is a planning and consulting firm whose work strengthens the organizations that strengthen communities. Our clients include government agencies, nonprofits, foundations and funders, community and real estate developers, and urban planning organizations. We help clients to launch and administer complex new programs; improve operations and increase impact; and promote organizational excellence. Clients come to us because our team's hands-on experience and expertise allows us to design and implement customized solutions to complex problems that make the most sense for each organization we serve.

How We Help Urban Planning Organizations

Our Emergency Management & Planning service area brings together skillsets honed over years working alongside public and nonprofit organizations to deliver transformative resiliency planning and resource management advice to our partners and their communities. As experts on housing policy, workforce development programs and best practices, and urban development initiatives, we will design, implement, and improve upon high-impact interventions that center equitable recovery practices and promote resiliency and adaptability. To do this, we will:

- Foster platforms for community voices
- Build organizational capacity to adapt and grow
- Identify and manage sustainable funding streams
- Design feedback systems that make sense for your organization
